1. plinth / precinct

The concept deconstructs the archetype of the lighthouse in its constitutive elements. It is a floating precinct that challenges the scale of the Costa Concordia’s relict. It is a fortress that balances full and void.

It creates a new horizontal dimension interposed between sea and sky. It serves itself of abstract, basic geometry. It establishes a framework for programmatic coexistence.

It doesn’t indulge in formalistic variations. It explores the poetic potential of the architecture's parameters.

Producing symbolic spaces throughout a calibrated relationship with the landscape.
